Never in the history of the stove trade has there a cooking stove or range been placed on the market, that has so nearly supplied the demand of the public, and given as universal satisfaction, as the Badger. The ideas in this invention were first, to construct a fire pot and grate, so as to hold a continuous fire. Second, to construct fins for heating the oven in all its parts alike and all boiler holes, at same time. Third, an auxiliary air chamber, surrounding the fire pot and air passages, to admit fresh air into the oven. For sale by John Griffiths, Milwaukee St., and 50 North Main St.

—This morning at the home of Mrs. Julia Lentz, on Western avenue, fourth ward, occurred the death of Mrs. Colburn who had been sick for some time past. Mrs. Colburn's illness was partly due to old age, she being over eighty-six years old. The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon at three o'clock from the German Lutheran church.

—The programme to be presented by the Choral Union at their coming concert embraces a variety of choral and solo work of a popular order. A number of the members, now almost unknown in solo work, will come to the front on that occasion. There are a number of excellent voices in this society which will be shown to good advantage at the concert.

—Washington Engine Co. No. 1 and Water Witch Engine Co. No. 2 have "pooled" issues and are making arrangements to give a grand union ball at the Guards' armory on Christmas eve. This party will on the one hand be the companies' annuals, and both are determined to make everything pleasant and comfortable for their guests. Music by Smith & Corlies' orchestra. Remember and attend.

—An entertainment will be given next Monday evening, at the First Methodist church under the auspices of the Young Men's Choral Extension Club. Mrs. J. B. Day, the elocutionist, will render several pieces in her inimitable manner, accompanied by songs and recitations from home talent. Admission 10 cents. Everybody is invited. The club has spared no pains to make the programme both instructive and entertaining. Come and enjoy it.

—Yesterday afternoon John Williams of Beloit, appeared in the municipal court and entered the plea of guilty to a charge of stealing a ten dollar clock at Beloit. He and his attorney, Mr. J. C. Rood, appeared to the court for mercy, the prisoner admitting that he was drunk at the time, and promising to behave himself in the future. The court sentenced him to hard labor at the Waupun prison for one year. The prisoner was taken to Waupun this afternoon.

—A very curious case came up in Justice Pritchard's court to-day. Some time ago Joseph McMichael received a judgment against William West. Mr. West also received one against William Wyman. In order to recover the amount of his own judgment, McMichael garnished Wyman for the judgment that West had been granted. Meanwhile an appeal from this judgment had been taken. The appeal was to the circuit court and was dismissed for want of jurisdiction, but West claims that before the garnishment action was begun against him he had assigned his judgment to Mr. Schmechel. Taking it all together it seems a little doubtful just who Mr. McMichael is to recover from.

—Just as people begin to learn the peculiar significance that a blue star, flying at half-mast between a red star and a red crescent, on the signal service flag staff, has, there comes a change that will break the system all to pieces again. General Hazen has recommended that the flag now in use be replaced by an entirely new set, as fast as they become worn out or unserviceable.

The flags described are four in number: No. 1, a white square flag, indicating clear or fair weather; No. 2, a blue square flag, indicating rain or snow; No. 3, a triangular black flag, indicating temperature—when above No. 1 or 2, it indicates warmer weather; when below No. 1 or 2 it indicates colder weather; when it is not displayed stationary temperature may be expected; No. 4 is the present cold-wave black flag, with which No. 3 will never be displayed.

—Brookford Register: Brodhead, Wis., is about thirty miles from Rockford on a bee line. Last night the citizens held a railroad meeting to work up interest in a new line. M. M. McNair was delegated to see Rockford people, and certain Chicago railroad men. They would like a road running direct from this city.

Brodhead has 2,000 inhabitants, is in the center of a rich farming country, and there are some manufacturing. An old railroad was graded from Brodhead down to the state line, about ten miles, and that could be bought very cheap. Mr. McNair pictures great advantages to Rockford if the road could be built up there, and on into the lumber and iron regions. Janesville is 20 miles from Brodhead, and such a road would divert traffic from Janesville. He has been talking to Messrs. Tinker and Talcott, and would like to interest citizens here, so they would unite to gain the coveted end. He goes to Chicago this afternoon.

—Mr. Gay Hayden, of Vancouver, Washington Territory, is spending a few days with old friends, after an absence of thirty-seven years. Mr. Hayden has been traveling for the past three months with the Oregon exhibit car, making a tour of twelve states. The car was furnished by the Northern Pacific railway company and fitted up by the people of Washington Territory. It was a great attraction wherever exhibited, demonstrating that Washington Territory and the farming lands along the line of the Northern Pacific road are unrivaled in point of excellence. Samples of grain are now on exhibition at this office, and are well worth seeing. Mr. Hayden came to Wisconsin when Milwaukee had but two houses, and was a resident of Jefferson and Rock counties for thirteen years. The family of Mr. E. G. Fifield he remembers as old friends. In 1847 he moved to Washington Territory, and is now in his sixty-seventh year; he says that while a life-long resident of the United States, he has never voted for a president, and never had but one opportunity. He leaves for the west the early part of next week.

—With the first of December the Audubon Society for the Protection of Birds entered on its seventeenth thousand of enrolled members. As the plan of the society was only announced in February last, and the first certificates of membership issued in April, the large number of members on the books of the society is an indication of the very wide-spread interest taken in the subject of bird protection by the general public. The influence of the society has made itself felt in the best quarters, and although feathers are still worn to some extent they are for the most part those of game and domestic birds, and we no longer see hats trimmed with the heads and wings of half a dozen tiny songbirds. There is no expense connected with membership in the Audubon Society, which is laboring solely to educate people to appreciate the value of our birds to the country at large. The society wants a local secretary in every town in the land. It issues handsome certificates of membership bearing a portrait of John James Audubon, the great naturalist from whom it takes its name. Information as to its methods and plans may be had by addressing the Audubon Society, 40 Park Row, New York City.

—Died Among Strangers.

To the Editor.

DEAR SIR:—Under the heading "Died Among Strangers" you published the death of John Johnson, who died at the Commercial hotel on Wednesday, and who you state that his countrymen knew nothing of his case until after his death. The fact is, however, that he came to the house, sick, Nov. 12th, and asked to be accommodated with room and fire. Seeing that he was unable to converse in English, I thought it best that he should stay at some Norwegian house, and directed him where to apply, with the understanding that no one would take him in to come back again, which he did in about two hours, stating no one would accommodate him as he was sick. He was immediately taken to bed, and nursed by us until the 25th. He was during this time under the care of Dr. Palmer, who provided him medicines and was most assiduous in his care of him. It was during this time and previous, that his countrymen were notified of his condition and had the opportunity if they so wished, to have nursed and taken care of him. As his disease assumed graver proportions and he became delirious and required some one constantly with him, the county was notified of the facts and assumed charge of him, yet notwithstanding the great interest taken in the case by Dr. Whitting, he succumbed to his disease. My only reason for recording here at this length, is to give "credit where credit is due"; and the only ones to whom that ought to be applied, is to Dr. Palmer, Dr. Whitting, and Mr. Eurbank, the clerk at the Commercial hotel, who nursed him two weeks, night and day. Some of his countrymen knew of his sickness three weeks before he died. I am yours respectfully,

THOMAS HANCOCK.

Janesville, Dec. 10th, 1886.

EDUCATIONAL POSSIBILITIES.

As Illustrated at the Teachers Institute To-day.

The Modern Changes in Methods Fully Discussed.

Items in General:

The teachers institute that opened to-day was remarkably well attended.

The Edgerton, Beloit, Evansville, and Clinton public schools were closed, and teachers from there attended in a body.

This morning was taken up by Prof. S. Y. Gillan, of the Milwaukee Normal school. He spoke of the methods in use for teaching reading, arithmetic, geography and grammar, and gave exercises in each, illustrating his views.

It was twelve o'clock when the discussion over the various questions that came up was ended, and the teachers then took a recess. They met again at one o'clock, after an hour spent in experimenting upon physiology as applied to the digestive organs. The first paper read was by Prof. C. H. Keyes on "The Function of the Institute."

Following that came class exercises in spelling by Misses Lillie Godden and Martha Willey; a paper upon physiology—illustrated with experiments—by F. D. Jackson, and a miscellaneous exercise in charge of Prof. Gillan. Each of the class exercises was followed by lively discussions upon the points treated of and the ideas expressed were such as those interested in education might well remember.

This evening, (Dr. J. W. Stearns, professor of the theory and art of teaching, in the State University, will lecture upon "Educational Values." The lecture will be delivered in Lippin's hall, and the attendance is likely to be large.

WILL OPEN NEXT WEEK.

The Opera House to be Opened by a Benefit for Mr. Myers—Other Notes.

The benefit for Mr. Peter Myers will, all probability be fixed for Saturday evening, December 18th. Mr. Myers has had the matter under consideration since he received the petition, and to-day he made reply as follows:

JANESVILLE, Dec. 10, 1886.

Messrs. Henry Palmer, A. C. Bates, John P. Bennett, Hiram Merrill, J. J. Pease, J. D. Whitting, and others:

GENTLEMEN: Your communication of the eighth, was a surprise, and a source of gratification to me, showing as it does such feeling of interest in the new opera house, and, as I take it, your good will and wishes to me. If His Honor, Mayor John Winans, will appoint a committee as suggested, I will be pleased to have them adopt any arrangements they see fit, and to meet you at the new opera house Saturday evening, December 18th, when the same will be completed.

Respectfully,

PETER MYERS.

It has been positively announced that, on Monday evening, December 20th, Atkins Lawrence and Miss Viola Allen, supplied by the same company that is now playing at the Grand opera house in Milwaukee, will appear at the opera house in "A Wall Street Bandit." This is a society drama illustrating New York life. It takes its name from the title that "Justice Sharkey," a broker's clerk, gained by his various antics. The understanding is that tickets will be for sale on and after next Monday.

I may be well for skaters to begin their careful about venturing on the river. The warm weather has made it decidedly unsafe.

The Weather.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 33 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with south wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 39 degrees above zero. Cloudy with west wind. For the corresponding hour one year ago the register was 13 and 22 degrees above zero.

"Neither a borrower nor a lender be," but take your own 25 cents and go round to your own drugstore and buy yourself a bottle of Salvation Oil for your sprains, aches and pains.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE.

For more than forty years this standard weekly magazine has kept its readers abreast with the literary progress of the age. It is indispensable to the American reader. Supplying the place of many reviews, magazines and papers, it enables one at small expense, considering the quantity and quality of the reading furnished, to keep pace with the best literature and thought of the time.

Its prospectus for 1887 is worthy the attention of all who are selecting their reading matter for the new year. By a special arrangement with the publishers we are able to give reduced clubbing rates for the Living Age and the Gazette.

Backache, lung and kidney troubles cured by "Pomeroy's Petroleum Plasters"—of druggists. Prentice & Evanson, opposite postoffice.

Announcement.

Having purchased the literary business of Mr. O. W. Jackson, we are now prepared to furnish the people of Janesville and vicinity with first class rigs at reasonable prices. We hope by strict attention to business to merit a liberal share of their patronage.

DONWIDDE & HOMPHERY.

Notice.

All members of the "National Library Association of Chicago," and all who desire to become members, will get information of value by calling at Mr. Whiton's drugstore, West Milwaukee street.

Dr. Seth Arnold's Sugar Coated Bilious Pills unequalled for constipation, jaundice and liver troubles. 25 cents.

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE.

Rock and Green Counties to be Censused.

The following is copied from the Racine Times, of December 9th: "The interest in this case is increasing in our state. The recent tour of Susan B. Anthony and others through the congressional districts has been productive of much discussion and has awakened great enthusiasm. The School Suffrage bill has received a fair share of attention, and is being generally considered. The best judges among them being our esteemed fellow citizen, Col. J. C. McMyne, have expressed themselves, in private conversation, as believing that the bill is very broad in scope, that it means what it says, and entitles women to vote on all subjects and for all officers having to do in any manner with schools. The canvass of the state will be continued. Between now and New Year's day Green and Rock counties will be censused. Conventions will be held in Monroe, Beloit and Janesville, and lectures will be given in the smaller towns. The convention at Monroe is appointed for the 16th, 17th and 18th of the present month. The day sessions will be free evening sessions will be free to all but a contribution of 25 cents will be taken at the door from those who are willing and able to aid the cause. Those who wish to attend the meeting are as unwise or unwilling to contribute 25 cents are invited to attend free of charge. The friends of the cause are invited to take part in the meetings; opponents are requested to be present and state their objections. The friends in the place who are able and willing to aid by entertaining speakers, or otherwise, should make themselves known to Mrs. Tillie W. Wickersham, Judge.

The appointments so far as made are:

Albany—Dec. 13.

Broadhead—Dec. 14.

Juda—Dec. 15.

Monroe—Dec. 16, 17, 18.

Milton—Dec. 22.

Janesville—Dec. 27, 28.

Beloit—Dec. 29, 30, 31.

Other announcements will be made later.

BELOIT COLLEGE NOTES.

A College Graduate With a Private Car—The Infusion of New Blood—Charley Mitchell and Virgil.

Beloit's sons seem to take most kindly to the ministry and after that to journalism. While among those who follow the former he has none of the Henry Ward Beecher type, yet she has turned out a large number of good and eminent divines. She has representatives in the editorial chair and on the staffs of the leading journals east and west, and it is an interesting fact that probably the only editor in the country who travels in his own private car is a Beloit graduate, namely Mr. H. B. Hobart, of the Railway Age.

The infusion of young and vigorous blood in Beloit is sure to make itself felt sooner or later. Elective studies are to be introduced, and the unusually long summer term has been shortened. In these and many other ways, Professor Eaton's conception of modern customs has presented itself.

Yale, Princeton, Harvard and Cornell publish literary papers, edited by students. Beloit, where it seems to be a difficult matter to issue even a small monthly, this sounds like a fairy tale. The Beloit Round Table, however, is over forty years old, and ranks with the best college publications in the land.

The H. B. C.—that is to say, the Beloit College Club—was very pleasantly entertained last Tuesday evening by Miss E. E. Bort, at the residence of her father, Mr. A. N. Bort.

There will be only seven speakers at Junior Exhibition this year, the smallest number for some time. The quality, however, remains unimpaired.

Last Tuesday evening a certain student found, after having his hair cut, that he had left his purse in his other pants. Being a stranger to the barber, he had to leave his overcoat in the shop until he found some one on the street whom he could "strike" for a quarter. Such is life.

Prep.—pointing to bust of Virgil—"Say professor, isn't that Charley Mitchell, I seen him at—"

Professor faints.

One Trial Will Convince.

You that Pomeroy's Petroleum Plasters are superior to anything of their kind for pains in the back, chest, side or kidneys. Sold by druggists and Prentice & Evanson, druggists, opposite postoffice.

The Southern Bivouac.

The Southern Bivouac for December contains a number of original and striking articles, and is a magazine which neither the north or the south would hesitate to claim.

The article to which nearly every reader will first turn relates to the Northwestern Conspiracy. It is the introduction to a complete history of this episode of the war, and contains the letters of introduction and the commissions issued to the Confederate commissioners. The cipher used is also given, with an account of the manner in which the commissioners ran the blockade. These papers will equal in historical interest and excel in persons adventure any war papers yet published.

"At Ricketts' Play Party" will also attract attention, and the favorable impression made by the first installment of "The Two Marksmen of Ruff's Mountain" is very much strengthened. Col. G. P. Thurston, of Nashville, has a graphic account, from the federal standpoint, of the battle of Chickamauga.

The poets of this number are Will Wallace Harney, William C. Richards, Richard E. Burton and Cecil Harcourt.

It's all very well to talk about building new railroads and new Steam Ships—but how could men
